How'd that help yesterday?

They threw 500 Billion at the market and it still dropped. Dow finished at -9.99%. Lol.

I still think the FTSE is gonna crash... We're apparently closing all schools nationwide for TWO MONTHS. Cancelling a shit tonne of public events. People are being told to work from home. Football games have stopped for 3 weeks.

Honestly, watch the UK... We're gonna see a spike in cases and shit will hit the fan. The knock on effect will hit DOW shortly after. Watch.

>The fake money based on nothing is making green numbers
>I'm thinking we're back

How much money did you make today from the green numbers anon? Do you see that the stock market is a Ponzi scheme? Here is the difference. If the Dow goes up 1000 points, you, me, 95% of Americans don't make a dime. Even if you own stock and it went up, you don't make a dime you can take to the bank until you sell. It is fake money.
If I offered you $100 to get facefucked by a nigger with aids, that is really money you can take to the bank. Do you see the difference?

Around the world countries are coming up with stimulus/stalkout packages to try and stop the bleeding. Dow futures are at 1000+ points so I think there's been enough to stop the bleeding for today so you dudes don't get bummed when it doesn't fall apart in 30 minutes but long term it's fucked.

We're still in the slow burn phase of all of this. It's not stopping, not by any metric that exists minus China's bullshit numbers/forcing people back to work.

>That means nationalize our healthcare sector.
So you made the price marginally equal zero, everyone floods the system, shortages occur, and now we have the elderly being rejected by the healthcare system.
Good job. You've created Italy.

>That means paying people to stay home.
That means wheel-barrels of cash to buy a loaf of bread.
Contributing even more to the trillions in national debt is not a solution.

>That means shutting down large sectors of our country and economy.
I thought you faggots were complaining the dow dropped, and now you want to tank it further.

What
